The Bank Zero patent delivers powerful security using three cards on one physical plastic:

- 1 EMV chip card for tap or dip purchases on physical devices like ATMs and POS. You can control your taps to 'always ask for a PIN' or if you prefer just 'tap without a PIN' to the country limit. Some banks and retailers ignore the PIN request and we'll reject anything without a PIN making tap very secure when set to 'always ask for a PIN'.
- 2 Online card used at digital stores requiring card payment details. You always authorise these purchases on your phone:
  - Some online stores need an OTP. With Bank Zero you just Authorise on your phone, with no OTP. Gone in 60 seconds.
  - Some online stores bypass OTP. With Bank Zero you still Authorise on your phone, but now time is much shorter, so keep your phone ready!
- 3 Magnetic strip (on back of card) that's rarely swiped. We'll reject your card swipes and ask you to tap or dip using your secure Mastercard EMV chip card. Criminals record this strip using card readers and use the card details at non-secure digital stores. Bank Zero stops this fraud.
